And from the things they actually said in court department: "Were you present when your picture was taken?" "Was it you or your younger brother who was killed in the war?" "Are you qualified to give a urine sample?"

John Ross added to the humour of the afternoon with a story about beating the cost of train travel.

Our guest speaker was our Immediate Past President Jack 'Free Lunch' Ellis who told us about the oil business. The most attractive feature to owning oil wells is that there is no marketing and no collecting. There are six big buyers so that a producer can always sell the oil. Jack provided us with some very interesting information about researching the purchase of oil wells and some of his experiences in operating the wells.

John Plunkett thanked our speaker on our behalf.

Mike Matei circulated information on Curlorama that will be held in Banff from November 5th to 7th, and there are a number of people interested. We would like to have two rinks to compete.

Marty Larson reminded those present that he has the hockey pool tickets for those who have not yet received them. The other person to contact is Dave Duchak.

Past President Jack cut the cards and Bruce Foy won a free lunch.

Upcoming Events:

Our next regular meeting will be at the Mayfair Golf Club at noon on Tuesday November 2, 1999.

First Vice-President, Gunnar Anderson wants to remind everyone that the Edmonton Gyro Club Millennium Christmas Dinner will be held on Tuesday December 7, 1999 at the Edmonton Petroleum Club. Mark your calendar now so that we have a great turnout. Details on costs and time will follow soon.
