NEXT MEETING:

Tuesday, January 18, 1983, Mayfair Golf and Country Club at 12.15 p.m.
Professor Ted Chambers of the Department of Economics, University of Alberta, will speak on the Kondratieff Curve which represents graphically the cycles and swings of business activity over the long run. The talk will be illustrated with charts and graphs.

BIRTHDAYS

Garnet Nelson	January 1	Benny Van Loon	January 1
John Ross	January 2	Harry Mills	January 5

The following is dedicated to all those who resolved to refrain from over indulgence in 1983.

Jangle Bells

JANgle bells, jangle bells, jangle all the way!
FEBrifuge, aspirin, start this New Year's day.
MARK me down for a clown - I had the whole gang over.
APRicot brandy's what left me with this hangover.
MAYbe I erred to try whiskey laced with rum;
JUNiper potions were drunk ad libitum.
JULep's sinful when a skinful has a vodka chaser;
AUGht of saki leaves me rocky the ensuing day, sir.
SEPTic all alcohol is - the stuff of devils;
OCTopods, elephants, joined my New Year revels.
NOVelties from D.T.'s pail; I end my lay year's DECLaiming I shall stay dry this whole New Day!

SICK AND VISITING:

It was reported that Dot Hamly had been hospitalized with flu and pneumonia just before Christmas, but has since been discharged. We trust that she is now well recovered.

THIS WEEK (26)

President Tommy welcomed the return of Dave Webber following some recent orthopedic surgery. He also laid out the welcome^{mat} for the presence of Bruce Sansom. The winner of the draw was Neil Sheidow.

And now if you will forgive a more personal experience, the following may be apropos with the N.F.L. play-offs leading to the Super Bowl underway. In the middle of December the writer's No. 1 offspring^{also} (2,3,4, ...) was in Texas as a member of a Provincial Government Task Force on Computers in Schools. The group visited Dallas, Houston, and Austin. Having been employed in the Dallas area at one time he was acquaintedⁿ with a number of people, one of whom was an agent for several of the Dallas Cowboys. Knowing that there was a game that week-end he telephoned his friend to find out if he had any tickets available. The reply contained both good news and bad news. The good news was that he had the tickets. The bad news was that the game was not scheduled as a home game for Dallas, but was to be played in the Astrodome at Houston. So much for the luck of the draw.

Be sure to establish a firm itinerary before starting out on your travels.
